Protest emerges over possible school shuffle

■ Scores of parents upset with possibility of transferring principal Eileen Kleiser from Westmore Oaks Elementary School

By Steve Marschke

Acting school superintendent Dr. Dennis Kelleher is working on a plan to staff the Washington School District's schools and district offices, and a number of parents are upset that the plan may include the transfer of school principals between institutions.

In particular, students at Westmore Oaks (one of the district's six elementary schools) have become vocal in their opposition to the possibility of losing principal Eileen Kleiser from their school.

"I would hate to see Ms. Kleiser move anywhere," said Larry Langford, a parent of two (soon to be three) Westmore Oaks students.

Langford and his wife Danielle Langford said they obtained 280 signatures on a petition to keep the teacher. In addition, 25 parents and four children met with acting superintendent Kelleher on Friday, asking him not to move their principal and create what they feel would be a disruption at the school.

The Langfords believe the school board, which has been discussing the staffing in closed session because it involves personnel issues, plans to rotate principals among the schools. Two of the elementary schools, Alyce Norman and Westfield, have vacant principal positions, and according to the Langfords, a third principal in the district is having difficulty at a school.

Man shot in front of Ortega's

A man was mortally wounded in the early hours of Monday morning in a shooting in the parking lot of Ortega's, a night spot at 4205 West Capitol Ave., according to the West Sacramento Police Department.

Victor Derueda, a 20-year old Sacramento resident, died at about 9 a.m. at the University of California, Davis, Medical Center after being shot in the chest at about 1 a.m. in front of Ortega's.

Police believe Derueda argued and fought inside the bar with a Hispanic male suspect, and then fought again in the parking lot. The suspect went to his late model white vehicle and departed the parking lot with a male Hispanic passenger, firing a number of times at Derueda.

Police ask that anyone with information call the office of criminal investigations at 372-2461, or police dispatch at 375-6474.

Yolo County -- except for West Sac -- will shift to new area code

The California Public Utilities Commission adopted final boundaries for a new "530" telephone area code, which will leave West Sacramento as the only part of Yolo County which will remain in its current "916" area code.

The city of West Sacramento will remain in "916" with Sacramento County, Roseville, Loomis, Rocklin, Lincoln, Newcastle, Penryn, Pleasant Grove and El Dorado Hills.

The new "530" area code will serve current "916" customers in parts of Placer County (where the southern portion will stay in "916"), El Dorado County (where only El Dorado Hills will remain in "916"), Yolo County (except for West Sacramento), and Sutter County (except for Pleasant Grove).

In addition, the new "530" area code will serve small portions of Mono, Solano, Mendocino, Lake and Humboldt counties.

Dixon, under a separate ruling, will change its telephone numbers with 678- and 693- prefixes to the "707" area code on Oct. 4.

During a six month "get acquainted" period for the new 530 area code, customers will be able to reach the new 530 telephone numbers by dialing either 530 or 916 when dialing from outside the area code.

Also for this six month period, customers calling between the two area codes will be able to reach each other without dialing an area code.

The new area code will not affect the price of telephone calls.

One-day visit for five-ring circus

ELEPHANTS (left) will be among the travelling menagerie that sets down near Reed Ave. tomorrow for less than 24 hours, as the Carson & Barnes Circus sets up, performs twice, and breaks camp by Friday.

The circus is on a 250-town tour.

The circus will feature animals as well as human performers from the U.S., Canada, China, Mexico, Italy, France, Argentina, Peru and elsewhere, in a tour hour performance of juggling, trapeze, clowns, contortion and other acts.

Sponsored by the Shriners and El Rancho Fabricare, clowns visited elementary schools throughout West Sacramento (photo below) to tell the children a circus will be coming to town.

Billed as the largest travelling circus in the world, the Carson & Barnes Circus will perform at 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Reed Ave. between Harbor Blvd. and the I-80 freeway.. Call the Chamber of Commerce at 371-7042 for ticket information. Tickets can be purchased the day of the event.

Wells Fargo to open second in-store bank branch

New office in Safeway will help bank replace closed 'traditional' banking center

Wells Fargo Bank, which is closing its branch at Jefferson Blvd. and Merkley Ave., will hold a grand opening for an inside-the-store branch at the Safeway supermarket in West Sacramento this Saturday.

As part of the grand opening festivities, the West Sacramento Police Dept. will offer child fingerprinting at the site and will distribute crime prevention information. The West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce will stage a ribbon cutting for 11:30 a.m.

Wells Fargo will offer prizes and a special CD rate.

The bank has already opened a branch inside West Sacramento's other supermarket, the Raley's on West Capitol Ave., as well as about 550 other California markets and stores in Texas, Arizona and Nevada.

"By opening branches inside supermarkets, Wells Fargo is aiming to make banking as convenient as possible for our customers," stated Sabina Deol, branch manager, in a press release.

Commentary from a local county supervisor:

A big round of applause for Yolo County's foster parents

From Tom Stallard
Yolo County Supervisor, Third District

I dropped by the Yolo County Foster Parents Appreciation Night recently. The dinner that was served had been prepared by about a dozen of the older children in our program. I should have known what was coming when I saw the big box of Kleenex on a nearby table.

To begin with, I learned that foster parents come in all shapes, sizes and colors. What they have in common is BIG HEARTS. Those Kleenexes began to appear when Doreen Jesperson was presented with a special resolution honoring her and her late husband for providing a loving home for approximately 450 foster children since 1981. In consequence of her husband's passing, she was retiring from the field of battle, but the love felt for her by staff and fellow foster parents alike was something to behold.

But that was only the beginning. Later, when two young people now old enough to leave the program spoke, people who didn't have Kleenex available began diving for their napkins to catch those tears and sniffles. Mary described how separation from her four siblings had allowed her to avoid the destruction of drugs that she subsequently learned had afflicted her older brother whom she had never met. Meanwhile, her fifteen year old sister had become pregnant.

Jason's story broke everybody up. Born of a drug abusing mother and an alcoholic father, he and a similarly suffering older brother were in desperate shape when a caring babysitter informed Child Protective Services of their needs. This special person subsequently foster parented Jason until his graduation this week from a local high school. Jason told us that at five years old when he entered the program, he weighed 23 pounds; his seven year old brother weighed 28 pounds. He looked out into the audience at his foster mother and said, "Thank you Mom for saving my life."

All present were given ribbons acknowledging the specialness of each of us and how we make a difference. The theme for the evening was "Foster parents touch lives!" There was plenty of evidence in support of that. Yolo County is currently responsible for 230 children. Think about that. Many of these children come to the event and are cared for by volunteers from the Yolo County Department of Social Services so that the foster parents can enjoy the program.

I was surprised to see two local Navy recruiters and their spouses among the group. Both couples had applied to be foster parents without knowledge of the others' interest. They told me that because they move around a lot, involvement with foster parenting had the added benefit of bringing them more into the community. Both of these fine men are now on their last tour of duty, and I hope that we can keep them in Yolo County.

The setting for this gathering was the handsome and welcoming grounds of Yuba College's Woodland Campus, where administrators and staff have long collaborated with Yolo County Social Services in providing training and support for the program.

"Thank you!" loving foster parents! "Thank you!" dedicated Yolo County Social Services staff! "Thank you!" Yuba College! And "thank you!" to whomever remembered to put out the Kleenex!

News-Ledger Editorial

Absolutely no advice for graduates here

Graduates of River City High School, Yolo High School and any other high school, you've probably received more advice than you care for in connection with your commencement.

So the News-Ledger offers no advice at all, but a few questions instead, asked with a great deal of genuine curiousity:

What will your generation become known for?

You've heard about the alleged "slackers," the 20-somethings you are following out into the real world who have somewhat unjustly been accused of laziness, apathy and cynicism. And of the Baby Boomers, born in affluent, post-war America and not used to doing without.

What about you?

Will you set out to make your mark on the world, or simply set out to grab as big a piece of it for yourself as you possibly can?

Do you think it's possible to be both realistic and idealistic? Can you understand your limitations, and the world's limitations, and still seek to make it a better place?

Will you be more concerned with some goal of fulfilling your personal potential, or with responsibility to family or community? Or both?

Will you define success in the make of the car you drive and the square footage of your house, or find some other way to measure your worth?

What will your goals be -- and will they be worthy of you?

Will you work hard? What, if anything, will you be willing to work for?

Who will you be?

Firemens' scholarship

The West Sacramento Firefighters Association was present to make a $500.00 scholarship presentation to Malalai Yusufzai on Wednesday, June 11. At River City High School.

Thomas McDuffie, Lars Knutsen, and Ed Redmon, together made the presentation based on this students academic accomplishments. She is rated 12th in her class and carries a 3.9 grade point average.

Having first hand witnessed the difficulties her father experienced in their new country America, Malalai learned early on that education would assist her and allow her to make a contribution to society. She is planning to attend U.C. Davis as did her father.

The Lawrence Valine Scholarship which was established by the West Sacramento Firefighters Association is the highest award presented by the association. This scholarship has been given since 1989 to assist these deserving individuals to continue their education, something Chief Valine always advocated.

Water trouble. . .

In West Sacramento new fire hydrants have been installed to replace old units. Directly after the installation of a new hydrant on our property we had a slug of greasy substance that smelled of petroleum come into our home in our drinking water. We first detected it in our toilet on May 29, 1997. After two or three flushes, there was still a thick layer of the stuff floating in our toilet tank.

Chronology of events:

May 29, 1997: Contamination discovered.

May 30, 1997: Sample of water from our toilet tank given to the City before 0700.

May 30, 1997: 1100 samples of water taken from our kitchen tap by Mark Severeid, of the Public Works Department. Samples were taken from the neighbor's tap. That evening, I met Dan Houston (Public Works), he told us that the City would pay for purchased drinking water.

June 1, 1997: I totally emptied the toilet tank and scrubbed with Comet, rinsed, then cleaned with dish washing detergent. The oil slick returned after many flushings. We ran water freely all weekend as was suggested by Mr. Houston.

June 5, 1997: We sent a letter to the Mayor and Dan Houston asking for the lab report, and some plan of action. The only reply we received was a recorded phone message from Dan Houston saying there is a petroleum product in our water at 33 ppb (parts per billion), "but go ahead and drink it any way, that is not very high."

June 6, 1997: Mark Severeid assured us we would get a lab report. The water from our tap was once again sampled. The fire hydrant was flushed.

June 7, 1997: We fully cleaned the toilet tank again, and emptied and flushed the water heater.

June 11, 1997: Council Member, Chris Cabaldon announced at a City Council meeting that there is no contamination problem.

June 13, 1997: I called for, and got an appointment with Jerry Lo, P.E., Director of Public Works Department, and Mark Severeid. The essence of that meeting, as I understand it is: that the oily substance found in our drinking water was identified as phenanthrene, a byproduct of benzene. The phenanthrene was below the reportable limits, and therefore, safe to consume. The report on the analyses sent out by Sequoia Analytical Laboratory claims that 50 micrograms per liter is the minimum reporting limit, and they found 33 micrograms per liter, so they can safely say there was none detected. I have a document put out by the Department of Health Services, State of California, that claims 5 micrograms per liter is the minimum reporting limit. I showed this document to Jerry Lo. He said he would have to get back to me on that one. These documents mention MCL (Maximum Contaminant Levels). Mr. Lo pointed out that there is no MCL for phenanthrene. But it is not something that one usually tests for in drinking water. Perhaps they would test for it in soil around a leaky fuel tank? It seems only the sample from taken from the tap was analyzed. The sample was provided from our toilet tank had a slick nearly a sixteenth of an inch thick. Thirty three parts per billion?

When I expressed my dissatisfaction on the manner the City is handling the situation, Mr. Lo assured me that all that could be done was being done. He said it was cost prohibitive to run the lab tests over the weekend, and he got the lab results to us as soon as possible. Yet on June 5, Dan Houston left a message on our phone stating that 33 ppbs of a petroleum product had been found in our water. We had written a letter to the mayor with cc to Dan Houston asking for the lab report on June 4. It was June 13 at the meeting I requested with Mr. Lo, that after asking for it again, I received a copy. Mr. Lo also said the City was spending a great deal of money in that we would not have to pay our water bill this month, and a letter was forth coming to that effect. But Mr. Lo has gone on a week of vacation, and we have received our water bill for $27.96 for the month of June, and the only letter we have received is an unsigned letter identifying the contaminant, and saying that it is at a safe drinking level.

During the meeting I asked Mr. Lo if the City would flush the pipes in our home with a cleansing substance to rid our pipes of the oily film obviously still coating them. He indicated that the city would not. The City could not take the risk of damaging our old plumbing or our appliances. Also, the City is not responsible for anything after it has exited the City's system. Mr. Lo said the only way to rid our pipes of the oily phenanthrene is to run the water freely.

Mr. Lo and Mr. Severeid returned to our home after the meeting on the 13th. Both men acknowledged they could still detect a film in our toilet tank. Mr. Severeid took another sample from our kitchen tap. While Mr. Lo. was in our home, my husband, Leonard, asked him if he would have the fire hydrant flushed again. Mr. Lo said that it was possible, but that the problem has exited the City system, and we should simply run our taps freely. It was at this time that Mr. Lo left the unsigned letter stating that the water is safe to drink.

For us, it is not over yet. Not as long as we can still detect the phenanthrene with our natural senses. Phenanthrene, I have been told, is a byproduct of benzene, and a carcinogen. Mr. Lo agreed that it is carcinogenic, in high concentrations. So, what about low dosages over a prolonged period of time? If our water is safe to drink, it is as yet unpalatable.

At the June 26 Yolo County Superintendents' Council meeting, the School District Superintendents of Davis, Esparto, Washington, Winters, and Woodland decided to operate home-to-school transportation for Special Education children differently than has been done in the past.

As a result of their decision, each school district will contract with Woodland Joint Unified School District (JUSD) to provide Special Education transportation. The Yolo County Superintendent of Schools (YCSS) will no longer be providing home-to-school transportation services for Special Education children. The districts will begin providing Special Education home-to-school transportation at the beginning of Summer School on June 23 and will continue to do so during the coming school years.

The District Superintendents made this decision because of lack of adequate funding from the state for Special Education transportation. There has not been an increase in income for Special Education transportation since about 1985, and the expenses plus the number of students transported have increased to far more than the funding provided. This means that school districts have been paying the difference between the expenses and income available from their own general funds, resulting in fewer dollars for all students. The District Superintendents believe that Woodland, because of the scope and size of their transportation program, can provide transportation services more cost effectively.

YCSS is working closely with the Woodland JUSD to ensure that the transition is as smooth as possible. Some YCSS bus drivers will be joining the Woodland JUSD Transportation Program and other Woodland bus drivers have been undergoing special training in order to prepare for the students who have many unique needs. Eldon Sims, the Director of Woodland Transportation, has provided outstanding leadership in this transition. I ask everyone's support, understanding, and patience in this transition as Woodland staff learn the routes and complexities of transporting Special Education children from their homes to their school sites throughout Yolo County.

The Sacramento River registered 4 feet 1 inch U. S. gauge at the S. P. bridge yesterday

The utility or inutility of weirs in the Sacramento River is being exemplified at this moment at the mouth of the American River where a great sand bar stops navigation, or in a few days will completely prevent any steamers from going up stream. The most northerly weir in the Sacramento River above Rocky Point is separated from the sandbank by only a few feet and the river current is only wide enough for a small steamer to get by. Besides the turn in the channel is so sharp that in a few days no steamer drawing more than three feet of water can pass this point. Two years ago when a protest was registered with Colonel Rand about the building of these weirs he wasn't at all modest about telling the Washington Improvement Club that their case was not to be considered, for it must be "the greatest good for the greatest number," meaning that if weirs were to be built in the river channel they would be built for the benefit of Sacramento, leaving Yolo County out in the cold. Evidently Colonel Rand forgot that the steamers plying on the river were mostly owned by Sacramento people.

EXTENSION OF JITNEY SERVICE TAKEN UP AGAIN

At the request of the Washington Improvement Club a committee, consisting of E. A. Palm and P. A. Fitzgerald, called on C. W. McKillup, Superintendent of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, last Tuesday, asking that the question of extension of jitney service to Washington and Riverbank be taken up.

Mr. McKillup assured the committee that he would take the matter up with the corporation, but personally he could extend no hope for the extension, because at this writing the jitney service in Sacramento is far from being satisfactory either in a financial way or as a substitute for street car service.

When West Sacramento townsite was opeend up this question was considered and a bonus was offered to make good any deficit that might occur through the service. The P. G. & E. could not see a chance to make a gain and hence the installation of the West Side Railroad, which still operates cars to West Sacramento headquarters.

Mr. McKillup assured the committee that he would be able to answer one way or the other before the next meeting of the club.

This question was brought up at the meeting of the Improvement Club on June 1st. One of those preesnt asked the Chairman "What can be done to start things going in Washington in the most lively way?" One lady replied that she thought if street car service was supplied, following the installation of a gas supply, the advancement would be well on its way in a substantial manner.

The next meeting of the club will likely be able to return some satisfactory answer on this question.

MAY CONSOLIDATE SCHOOLS.

The first step taken for the consolidation of River View school, four miles south of Washington, with the Washington school, were taken last Friday when the trustees of both schools asked County Superintendent of Schools Harriet Lee for petition blanks calling for a special election for the purpose of voting on the question of consolidation. These petitions must be signed by a majority of the heads of families and the blanks must be completed and the election held before July 1st.

PREPARING FOR CONCRETE ROAD ON LEVEE

The application of District No. 785 in Yolo County to raise and widen its levee along the Sacramento River, has been set for hearing on June 18th, by the State Reclamation Board. According to the estimate of Asa G. Proctor, engineer of the district, the improvements will cost about $20,000. A clam shell dredge will be employed to do the work.

POPULATION OF WASHINGTON ESTIMATED AT 1500

In an effort to arrive at the exact population of the town of Washington, the Independent wrote Congressman C. F. Curry on May 11th, asking that as soon as the Census Bureau could secure it the figure be sent to this paper.

In reply Congressman Curry wrote under date of June 2d.

House of Representatives, U. S.
Washington, D. C.
June 2, 1920.

P. A. Fitzgerald, Esq., The Independent, Broderick, Calif.

My Dear Mr. Fitzgerald:

When I received your favor of the 11th ult. in reference to the population of the town of Washington, Yolo County (Postoffice Broderick) I took the matter up with the Director of the Census.

It has been impossible to secure the 1920 census report of the population of Washington, Calif., as the town is unincorporated and the Bureau does not compile the population statistics of unincorporated towns. The Director of the Census made an effort to secure the information you wished for me, but has been unable to do so.

I am very sorry that my letter does not contain more favorable information. With best wishes, believe me.

Sincerely yours,
C. F. CURRY.

Judging from the fact that at this writing there is not a vacant house in Washington, Riverbank or West Sacramento, it is estimated that the population of those three is fully 1500 people.

Later on the exact figure may be procurred and as a request of this paper stands for an answer at the Census Bureau an answer may be expected soon.

In the first Supervisor District of Yolo County, that is the portion contiguous to Sacramento and immediately tributary thereto, the population is estimated at about 4500.

This population is composed mostly of home owners, farmers and a very prosperous class of people. These people do all their trading in Sacramento, going to Woodland, the county seat, only on rare occasions for legal business and for tax paying.

The business of this portion of Yolo County is transacted almost entirely in Sacramento.

It extends from Elk Horn to the southern extremity of the county and includes the rich district north of Washington, West Sacramento, the Lisbon District, the Holland Land Company, Clarksburg and a great stretch of very valuable land south of Clarksburg.

More families have been added every day to this district and a constant stream of trade is pouring into the capital city over the bridges that cross the river and the ferries that ply thereon.

TWO MORE STOCK INSPECTORS NAMED FOR YOLO COUNTY

The Department of Agriculture, Office of Cattle Protection, has appointed two additional inspectors to represent the Office of Cattle Protection in Yolo County, viz: L. J. Hoffman, Fifth and Beamer streets, Woodland, who is to take care of the inspections at Yolo, Woodland, Davis, Knights Landing and Merrits. E. B. Hart, Winters, is to take care of the inspections at Winters. Hoffman and Hart are succeeding L. W. Bryant, our former inspector at Yolo, who has resigned.

Cattle will not be accepted at any shipping point or by any common carrier unless a certificate of inspection, issued by the inspector is filed with the agent therefor at time of shipment. All cattle to be slaughtered must be inspected at the slaughterhouse by the inspector for marks and brands before the same can be slaughtered.

No person can engage in the slaughtering of cattle as a business before obtaining a license from the State and filing a bond in compliance with the law. Failure to do so renders the person so doing liable to fine and imprisonment and closes his slaughter house for a period of one year.

Bills of sale must be obtained when cattle are purchased and must be shown to the inspector. All cattlemen who intend to ship cattle and all slaughterers intending to slaughter cattle purchased by them must inform the inspector at least 24 hours before shipment or before cattle are slaughtered, by notifying the inspector nearest the shipping corral or slaughter house.

GORED TO DEATH BY VICIOUS BULL NEAR FREEPORT

John C. Yenger, a dairyman of Freeport, was gored to death early Wednesday by a bull. Yenger died before aid could reach him after the infuriated animal had pierced his abdomen.

The bull, known to be particularly dangerous, had been kept chained in a corral. At about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning Yenger, who has been a dairyman in the Freeport district for many years, discovered that the bull had broken loose, and gone to the pasture. He attempted to drive the animal back into the corral.

The bull attacked his owner and drove his horns into Yenger's body. Death came almost instantaneously. The body was taken charge of by Coroner John T. Skelton of Sacramento County.

Yenger leaves a widow and taree small children. He was 50 years old and a native of Iowa.

PEAR CROP ESTIMATED AT 1500 TONS.

WOODLAND, June 2.—The Yolo County pear crop for 1920 was estimated at 1500 tons for a minimum yield this morning by County Horticultural Commissioner Wm. Gould in his report to the California Pear Growers' Association.

The normal crop runs about 2500 tons, but considering climatic conditions, the yield is more than expected by the growers. The largest orchard is the Rose orchard near Sacramento, on this side of the river. Here the Bartlett crop will be almost up to normal, though the cost of maintaining this average will reduce the profit far below normal.

City hall deal will be on council agenda

The West Sacramento City Council will be asked tonight to approve a deal selling the current city hall building at 2101 Stone Blvd. to developers Frank Ramos and Marvin "Buzz" Oates.

The deal calls for a sale of the land for $1,237,718.80, and allows for the city to lease back office space on the property (the former World Trade Center of the Port of Sacramento) until the city builds a new city headquarters.

The city will offer a financing plan to the developers if the council approves the selling plan.

City officials hope to begin a process of building a new city hall near the city's downtown area, replacing the current headquarters.

In local government

The West Sacramento City Council will hold a meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in council chambers, 2101 Stone Blvd. Agenda items are as follows:

Monthly status report on the Daniel C. Palamidessi Bridge Project.

Consideration of request for waiver of engineering standards -- 3440 West Capitol Ave.

Consideration of approval of specifications and authorization to solicit bids for the "Roofs at Fire Stations # 41, 43 and 44" Project.

Consideration of second reading and adoption of Ordinance 97-19 rezoning a portion of Johnson Road from M-1 to R-3 for Parcel 67-210-34 on Johnson Road.

Consideration of Resolution 97-45 canvassing the results of the June 18 election held and second reading and adoption of Ordinance 97-13 authorizing the levy of a special tax within CFD #6.

Consideration of Resolution 97-47 authorizing the Mayor of West Sacramento to sign the contract and drug free workplace certificate from the State of California Department of Boating and Waterways.

Consideration of a contract extension with Red's Tractor Service to maintain agency owned properties.

Consideration of recommendation to issue a final certificate of completion for 515 A Street and management agreement and management plan outline for the site.

Consideration of a contract with the City of Davis to provide Fair Housing services to the Yolo Joint Powers Agency serving West Sacramento, Woodland and the Yolo County Housing Authority.

Consideration of award of contract to the West Sacramento Press for legal notice publications for the 97-98 fiscal year.

Consideration of the sale of 2101 Stone Blvd. and authorizing the execution of an agreement entitled "Purchase Agreement and Escrow Instructions" by and between the city as seller and Frank Ramos and Marvin Oates as buyers.

Consideration of a request for a traffic impact fee waiver for 1800 Virginia Ave.

Consideration of a request for a traffic impact fee waiver for 3370 Jefferson Blvd.

Consideration and acceptance of the final report on the 1995 CDBG planning and technical assistance grant #95-STBG-963 for the multi-family apartment rehabilitation study and the model request for proposals.

Presentation and discussion of Ordinance 97-12 amending the land use zoning map from PO/PD-15 to BP and Resolution 97-37 amending the general plan land use diagram from office to business park for APN 67-131-01, 05 and 07.

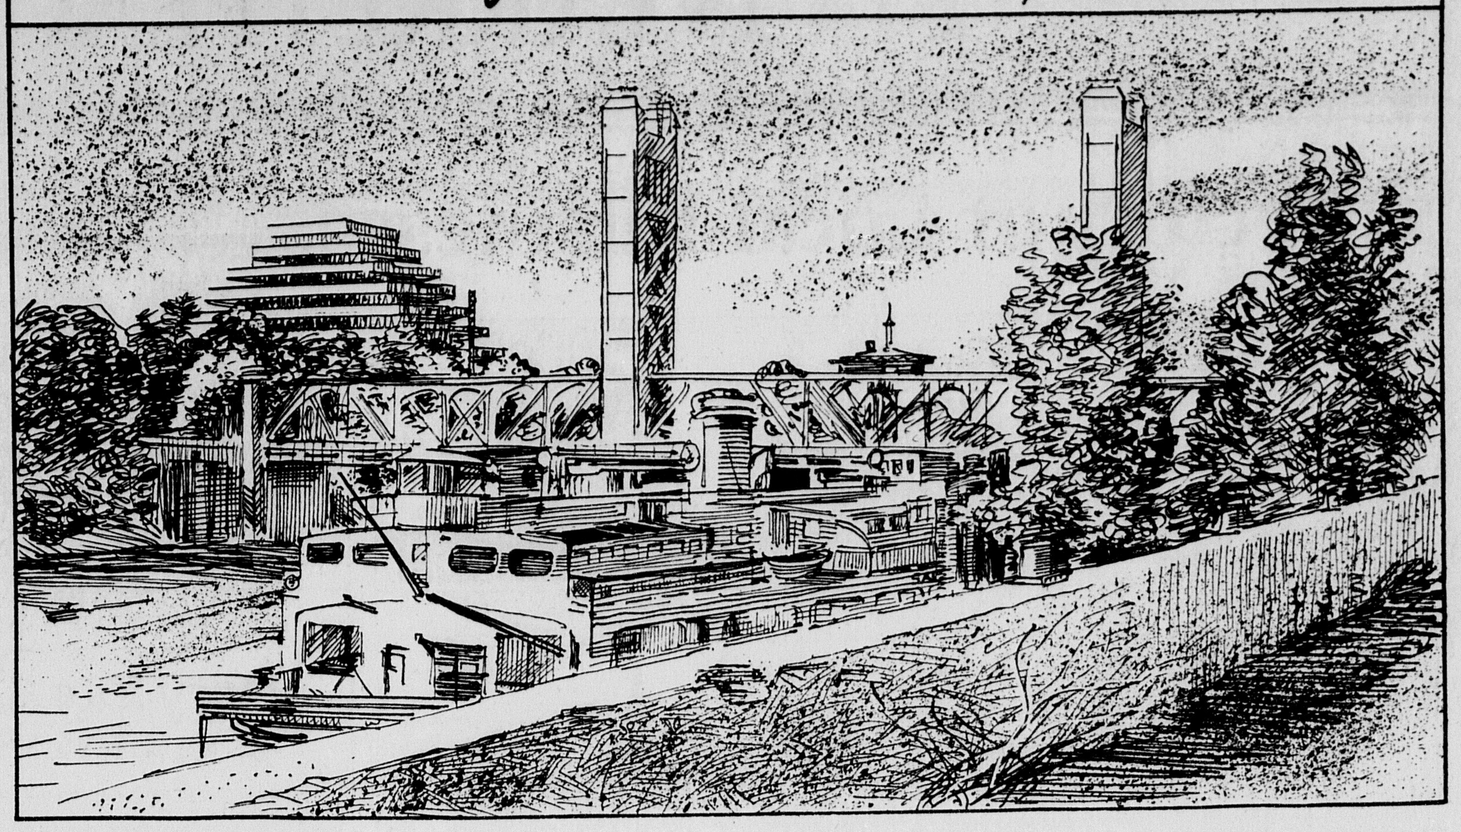

Presentation and approval of the final report of the "Design Center/Furniture Mart Feasibility Study."

A meeting of the West Sacramento Planning Commission will take place on Thursday, June 19 at 6 p.m. in city council chambers, 2101 Stone Blvd. Agenda items include the following:

Zoning administrator actions; All Diesel Electric, Inc. Conditional Use Permit; and Outdoor Systems Advertising Conditional Use Permit.

Sports Insider

By Richard Novoa

The Chicago Bulls are the 1997 NBA champions for the fifth time in the last seven years. The Bulls, who were led by MVP Michael Jordan, outplayed the Utah Jazz to win the series four games to two.

The Jazz just could not hold down Mr. Jordan in the fourth quarter of games five and six. Jordan, who was sick with the flu, took over on offense in game five and scored 38 points while the Jazz, who played like they were sick, choked on their missed opportunities.

Well, if you read my weekly column, you know I picked the Bulls. The Las Vegas oddsmakers had the Bulls heavily favored to repeat. You could wager $550 to win $100 that the Bulls would beat the Jazz, or you could take the underdog Jazz for $100 to win $400. Pick your poison! Either way it was a great series to watch.

NBC's coverage of the NBA finals drew the second-highest rating in league championship history. Did you know that Dennis Rodman is the first NBA player to win back-to-back championships on two different teams?

Baseball made history this week with the start of interleague play. Interleague play has drawn 38 percent more fans than the average game during the first ten weeks of the season. Teams averaged crowds of 35,789 for the first 46 interleague games through Sunday. Before interleague play, the teams were averaging 25,833! The Giants (38-29) are still hanging on to first place after they won three of their four interleague games. The Giants split a two game series with Texas, but swept two from Anaheim. The Giants will play Seattle on Tuesday and Wednesday before the L.A. Dodgers come to town, starting on Thursday night, for a four game series.

Boxing promoter Don Chargin has another great show planned for Friday, July 11 at the Memorial Auditorium.

The main event will be a 12-round championship bout featuring Sacramento's Diego Corrales against Mexico's Manny Castillo. This fight will be televised live on the Spanish network -- Telemundo. The semi-main event will pit two knockout artists. Yori Boy Campas (66-2), 58 KOs) will fight at the 153 pound weight limit against Buck Smith, who claims to have 176 victories, 10 defeats and 117 KOs. That's a total of 168 KOs between these two fighters!

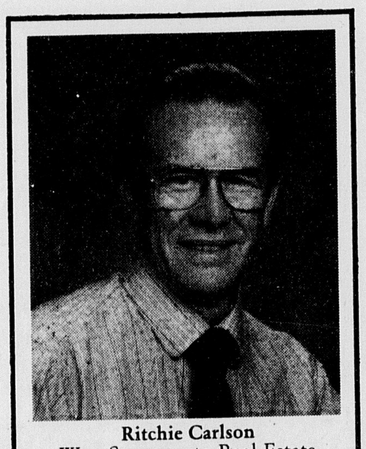

Tickets will be priced at $20, $30 and $40.

See ya next week!

Runners fight leukemia —
